It's Your Time to Teach!

The East Carolina University College of Education partners with NC community colleges to offer online degree completion in elementary education, special education, and middle grades education through Partnership East. Coordinators are located throughout the state to serve students in their home communities.

GETTING STARTED

To begin, students enroll at a partnering NC community college to complete specific coursework from a Partnership East prerequisite checklist. Students then apply to Partnership East and enroll at East Carolina University to complete junior and senior level courses as members of cohort groups. New cohorts are scheduled to begin annually with applications due in January and February each year.

AFFORDABLE & CONVENIENT

Students receive the benefits of convenient, online course delivery. Tuition is based on ECU's affordable distance education rates. Based on 2018-19 tuition, the cost of all courses at ECU is less than $14,000 making it a great value in NC education!

QUALITY

The cohort model provides a small college environment from the state's largest producer of teachers. Students also benefit from individual advising, and collaborative friendships with other students. A predetermined plan of study assures timely course delivery.

In conjunction with the online instruction, students are placed in public schools to observe and practice what they are learning to insure mastery for future success. A full-time internship is required of all teacher education students at ECU.
